'Fandangle' Show Slated For Canyon This Summer

Stage coaches bumping down a dusty road, horsemen galloping through a canyon, and singers depicting the Old West in musical style, will be a few of the highlights at a musical production June 11-13 in Palo Duro Canyon.

The Fort Griffin Fandangle is an outdoor spectacular which will be given in the amphitheatre in Palo Duro Canyon as a benefit for the Texas Panhandle Heritage Foundation.

Robert Nail, author and producer of the show, was in Canyon last week discussing initial plans for the outdoor musical.

Red Cross Campaign Underway

Approximately 75 Red Cross volunteer workers began knocking on doors this week in Canyon as the annual door-to-door fund raising campaign began.

Mrs. James Murphy White, head of the campaign, issued Red Cross packets Tuesday of this week to the committee heads on each street in town and various women in the rural areas. The drive will end Sunday, April 5 and results of the campaign will be known early next week.

Money raised by the group will be used in local and national programs sponsored by the National Red Cross. The main project in view for Canyon folks is free swimming lessons this summer for pre-school, school age and mothers of all-age children.

The lessons will be given along with water safety instructions by Red Cross instructors.

Jerry LaGrone, president of the local Red Cross board, said $500 had been collected from businesses during the advance gifts drive last week.

Each person contributing to the fund will be given a Red Cross sticker and a button with the well-known red cross on it.

A planning committee met Monday of this week in the conference room of the First National Bank. Those attending were Mrs. Allen Winters, Mrs. Margaret Tucek, Mrs. Manly Bryan, Mrs. Jo Carol Lindsey, Mrs. Joe White, Mrs. Harold Erwin, Jerry LaGrone, Bill Davis, Mrs. White, Kacal show with foundation board members.

He explained the materials which would be needed to produce the show in the canyon.

"He plans on building a road in back of the present stage at the theatre so the stage coach, covered wagons and horsemen can race through the area. He has some wonderful plans for the show, and he was very excited about the amphitheatre," explained Mrs. Ples Harper, president of the foundation.

Mrs. Harper was re-elected president of the board at a luncheon meeting Thursday of area board members. Lucian Upshaw was named vice president for 1964-65. Jerry LaGrone will serve as treasurer, and Aven Lair will act as director.

Officers serving a term from 1963 to 1964 are Russell Carver, vice president; Mrs. Kenneth Lanham, secretary; Eddie Melin and Mrs. Jack So-Relle, both directors.

A vice president in charge of finance will be selected by the finance committee at the next meeting.

Following the election, members listened as Nail explained the history and plans of the Fandangle.

The show was begun in Albany, Texas in 1938 as a musical outdoor production presented by Albany High School seniors. They called their show "Dr. Shackelford's Paradise", and the town decided to enlarge it to a city-wide affair. That summer, just two months after the first production, the performance was repeated under the title "Fort Griffin Fandangle."

"The new name was chosen because Fandangle, by its very sound, seemed to suggest good time, laughter, dancing, singing and showing-off, Western style. The Fort Griffin part of the title came from the frontier military outpost built not far from Albany in the time of the Indians--and added historical connotation," reads an explanation on the show's history.

The Fandangle will be presented as a benefit for the Heritage Foundation, and area organizations have been asked to sell tickets for the three-day presentation.

Organizations have been asked to sell 25 tickets apiece, and those groups reserving and paying for 25 tickets will receive the first seat assignments when the box office opens on May 1st.

In addition to space reserved on the concrete risers at the theatre, the board voted to put eight rows of chairs on the low risers in the front of the theater. Riser seats will be $2.50 per person, and the front seats will sell for $4.

Bill Davis will be in charge of the ticket sales for the Canyon area.

Box office at the theatre will be open May 1, and individual tickets for the show will be sold beginning that day.

A sample of the show to be produced in Palo Duro Canyon this summer will be staged in Albany, April 10 and again April 18. The shows will be sections of the complete production and Canyon residents have been invited to attend.

Fandangle will be the first show to be staged in the amphitheatre since construction was completed more than a year ago. Several activities have been held at the theater, but a full-length show has not been on the stage.

Woman Is Indicted

An indictment on charges of murder with malice was returned against Mrs. Shirley Jean Chamberlain of Amarillo last week by a Randall County Grand Jury.

Mrs. Chamberlain, 34 and the mother of three children, is charged with the Feb. 21 shooting death of her husband, Lenzy Earl Chamberlain. The shooting is alleged to have occurred at the Chamberlain home at 3402 Nebraska.

Mrs. Chamberlain is currently free on $10,000 bond.

The alleged shooting was the result of an argument which grew out of a $45 check written by Mrs. Chamberlain.

Four other indictments were returned against three other persons by the Grand Jury Wednesday.

They include the following: Don Allison, 23 of 4203 Monroe, Amarillo, swindling by worthless check.

Ray Brown Jr., 21, of Tulsa, forgery and theft over $50.

Robert Harris, 22, of 1945 NW 13th, Amarillo, theft over $50.

None of those indicted entered pleas Wednesday. There were no nobills.

Spring For Sure

Just enough balmy weather was experienced in Canyon during the past week to bring out the first blossoms on some fruit trees and flowering hedges in town. Lovely Lee Ruth Wiggins, 19, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wiggins of 2005 5th Ave., finds some of the first indications that spring is finally well on its way into the area. Flowers and hedges should reach their peak blooming period within another few weeks.

Cancer Drive Kick Off Puts Wheels In Motion

"We are planning to top our best during this April crusade for the American Cancer Society," said Dr. T. Paige Carruth, Randall County crusade chairman, at a kick off meeting for county workers Monday evening.

"We don't have a financial goal to meet, our main goal is to call a halt to cancer through research and the education of people to the danger signals," Carruth commented.

"If we can speed up the halt to cancer, even by one year through our contributions to research, we will have saved about 300 thousand lives," Carruth said.

"The disease itself knows no bounds. Among national figures that have been added to the cancer list in recent months have been Sam Rayburn, Gary Cooper, John Foster Dulles--but right here in Randall County we can count several that this disease claimed such as the Stipe child and Mack Boswell."

Aside from conducting the April cancer crusade in an effort to obtain funds for research, local workers will be distributing educational leaflets on what to look for in the early stages and alerting local residents to the possibilities of this disease. Approximately 30 Randall County workers were in attendance at the meeting Monday evening in the Windsor Room of the Student Union Building on the campus of West Texas State University.

A short film, "All For April", was shown to the group, featuring noted television and movie stars.

"In early years of the cancer crusade we took in $49.00, during 1963 we hit our best campaign yet with a total of

Former City Woman Safe

Mrs. Virginia Borrego, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Reid of 600 18th Street, was contacted by her parents Sunday at her home in Anchorage, Alaska--scene of the devastating earthquake last weekend.

Mrs. Borrego told her parents that she, her husband and her son had all escaped injury and that their home remained relatively undamaged.

She said, however, that the school in which she teaches was split apart and the portion in which her classroom was located had sunk several feet. She said at the time of the tremors she and her son Mike, 8, were at home. Her husband, Harold, was not contacted for several hours after the quake.

Mrs. Reid said her daughter was fairly "shook up" over the incident, but that the family planned to stay in Alaska, where Harold is an engineer with the Federal Aviation Administration. They have been there for about two years. Mrs. Borrego and Mike were in Canyon for two months last summer.

Mrs. Borrego told her mother they were having to melt snow for water until treatment facilities for city water could be restored or until safe water could be brought in.

The Borregos live only a block from the demolished school. Their address is 309 1/2 Harvard.

Eddie Poole Will Play With Baylor

Eddie Poole received dual tributes this week.

Poole, son of Mr. and Mrs. Keith Poole, was notified early in March he had been selected as a high school All-American football player.

The senior student at Canyon High School was picked by Coach and Athlete Magazine, a sports publication. The magazine polls coaches, sports writers and people interested in sports throughout the United States.

Each year several boys from Texas are selected for the Prep All-American Football Squad, Poole, an end for Canyon High School, was selected.

The second honor came Poole's way this week when C. G. (Chuck) Purvis, second assistant coach at Baylor University in Waco, came to Canyon to sign Eddie to the Bears team.

Purvis is assistant to head coach John Bridges and works with backs and pass offense at Baylor.

"I chose to go to Baylor because I like the school and I thought as an end they had the type of offense I would do

Canyon voters will make two trips to the polls during the next five days to elect school and city officials.

Four persons are seeking the two vacancies which will occur on the school board. None of the three opening places on the city council is contested.

Balloting in the school election will begin at 8 a.m. Saturday, and the polls will close at 7 p.m. The only polling place is the American Legion Hall. City elections will be during the same hours Tuesday at City Hall. Two incumbents are seeking reelection in the school election. They are J. O. Parker, current board president, and Dr. Charles R. Nester. Seeking their first terms are W. E. (Wendy) Miller and Richmond Hales.

Parker, who is completing his third term on the board, is a farmer and operates a feedlot near the Wayside Community. He has served as president of the board only during the past term.

Dr. Nester is completing his second term. A member of the medical staff at Neblett Hospital, Dr. Nester has practiced medicine in Canyon for the past 15 years.

Richmond Hales is a farmer and registered Angus cattle breeder. He was born in Randall County and was graduated from West Texas High School in 1946.

Miller has been a resident of the school district since 1926, and has been employed in the local Post Office for the past 38 years. For 15 years he served as a postal clerk but has been rural mail carrier since 1941.

School election judge will be Aubrey Crossland. He will be assisted by Lynn Bennett, Mrs. E. A. Michael and Mrs. Lois Prichard.

Umbarger area residents will also vote Saturday on candidates for two vacancies occurring on the Umbarger School District board.

Richard E. Friemel and Bernard Wilhelm are both seeking a two-year term to fill the unexpired term of A. H. Lindemann, who resigned from the board. Friemel has been serving as a board member after being appointed to serve until election time.

Leo Artho is the only candidate seeking the only three-year term which falls vacant this year.

Balloting will be from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. in the Umbarger school gymnasium. Louis Raef will serve as election judge and will be assisted by Art Wieck.

Also on the ballot will be the name of Jess Barker, who is running as trustee-at-large for the Randall County School Board.

A small turnout is expected for the city balloting which (See THOMPSON, Page 7)

Coaching Clinic Set For Friday

Some 200 area football coaches will be on the WTSU campus tomorrow and Saturday for the second annual West Texas State Coaching Clinic.

Guest lecturers will be Ray Graves, head football coach and athletic director at the University of Florida; Emory Ballard, head football coach at Central High School in San Angelo; Kenneth McCullough, head football coach, Breckenridge High School; Jerry Don Logan, former WT standout and now defensive safety with the Baltimore Colts, and the coaching staff of WT, headed by Joe Kerbel, head coach.

Sessions for the coaches begin at 9 a.m. Friday and continue through 4 p.m., when the participants are invited to view the Buffalo workouts at the practice field. Additional workshop and lectures will get underway Saturday beginning at 8:30 a.m. and continue until lunch. The coaches are invited to witness the Buffalo's second scrimmage of the spring training season at Buffalo Bowl.

During lunch Saturday door prizes ranging from golf balls and golf equipment to a portable television set will be given away.

Demonstrations accompanying the lectures during the workshops will be presented on mats or on the gym floor.

The scrimmage Saturday afternoon is also open to the public. There will be no admission charge. The clinic will be concluded with the scrimmage session.

More Plans Discussed For Summer Exhibit

More than 1,000 artists across the country are expected to enter work in the first annual Palo Duro Art Show to be staged this summer in the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum.

Theme for the show will be "The American Scene--Old and New," but entries will not be limited strictly to those carrying out the theme.

At a meeting last week of the Canyon Chamber of Commerce's steering committee for the exhibit, it was decided jurying of the entries will be done by colored slides or transparencies. Members of the jury and judges will be announced later. Individual artists will be limited to four entries each. Entry fee will be $4 per painting.

Deadline for entering the slides will be June 24.

Mrs. Olive Bugee, curator of art for the museum and a member of the chamber's committee, said plans call for the printing of some 3,000 brochures on the exhibit, which will be mailed to artists, museums and art organizations across the country.

She said emphasis on entries was being placed on the five-state area of Texas, New Mexico, Colorado, Kansas and Oklaahoma, but that entries would probably be received from all over the country.

Most of the art chosen to be exhibited will be hung in the gallery of the museum. Still more will be exhibited in the Fine Arts Building.

Prizes and awards have not been set definitely, but will include cash prizes and awards and the offering of two one-man shows and two three-man shows.

All art entered must be representational. No abstracts will be considered, Mrs. Bugee said. She said all canvases must either bear a price tag or marked not for sale. Paintings must remain on display throughout the show, which runs from August 2 to August 20, unless bought. If purchased, they may be removed.

Dr. Emilio Caballero, chairman of the committee, said a professional photographer will be present during the jurying of slides to serve as a consultant on the quality of the slides.

Dr. Caballero said the theme for the show was chosen in honor of Canyon's 75th anniversary this year.

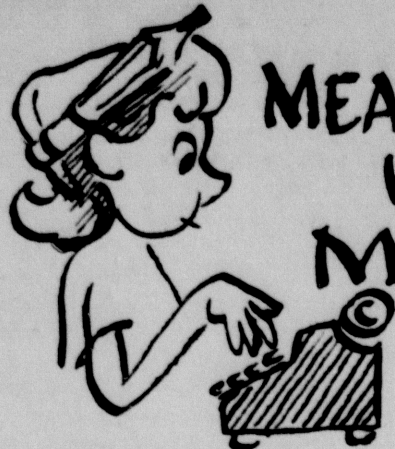

The show is being sponsored by the chamber, West Texas State University and the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum.

The committee plans to meet again after the brochures are printed. In addition to the brochures, notices of the exhibit will also be run in art magazines.

Eddie Poole, left, makes his final decision by signing his name to a contract to attend Baylor University. Looking on are Mr. and Mrs. Keith Poole, Eddie's parents, standing, and Coach

C. G. (Chuck) Purvis, first assistant football coach at Baylor. Eddie was a standout end for the Eagles during the past three years and was named Prep All-American this year.

MEANDERING WITH MARGO

Members of the Randall County Red Cross chapter and volunteer workers began paving the pavement this week in the annual fund raising campaign, which began Tuesday.

Mrs. Shirley White is chairman of the door-to-door campaign and Jerry LaGrone, chairman of the local chapter, headed the advanced gifts drive.

Canyon folks have been asked for money many times this year and they have responded with interest and the needed money.

The Red Cross is one of the many projects which is explained to local people and then a plea for help is issued. But the Red Cross is offering something very "local" with the money raised during the two-week drive.

With the money raised, free swimming lessons will be given to Canyon youngsters this summer. The Canyon pool will be open to kids each morning for two weeks of swimming instructions. The instructors will be Red Cross trained and qualified to teach swimming and water safety.

Pre-school age and school age children will be given the lessons as will mothers of these youngsters. No longer will these moms have to watch from "dry dock" as their children enjoy the summer sport.

The Red Cross drive began Tuesday and ends Sunday.

We are gaining admiration for our parents as days go by. We acquired a baby duck this week, and realize the folks were the ones who took care of the last duck that lived in our household.

We became maternal suddenly, but we had no idea just what to do with this fuzzy, waddling animal that took over our house.

After finding a box, saw dust, a large pan, some duck food and a warm place, we were satisfied we had done all we could do for the well being of the duck.

Folks, why didn't you tell us ducks were so much trouble?

The Charles Peckenpaugh family of Canyon attended funeral services for his aunt, Mrs. Ula E. Laurent, in Perryton last Friday afternoon.

Mrs. Laurent, 63, died Tuesday of last week at her home in Albuquerque, New Mexico. She was born May 26, 1901 at White Oaks, New Mexico.

Funeral services were conducted at the First Baptist Church of Perryton with Rev. Edgar Jones officiating.

She is survived by her husband, Herschel, of Albuquerque; three sisters, Mrs. H. T. Cropper of Wichita Falls, Mrs. Lorena Kutch of Amarillo and Mrs. Ben Peckenpaugh of Farnsworth; and a brother, Martin Smith, of Farnsworth.

Hilltop Views

Hon. Marvin Jones is retiring from the post of Chief Judge of the U. S. Court of Claims. In this fact, Texas and the nation are losing one of their cleanest, finest, and most dedicated public servants ever to grace the payrolls of our country.

Judge Jones has the distinction of having served his country in official capacity almost a half century—about 25 years as a member of Congress from this District. Though this writer has been a citizen of the Panhandle throughout Judge Jones' public career he does not remember ever having heard him criticized, certainly not bitterly. It could be that my memory is bad, but I am quite sure that neither his character, his intelligence, his patriotism, nor his dedication to the public welfare has ever been impeached.

Moreover, Marvin Jones, is a man of the people—all the people. He is no high-hatter and he was never surrounded by any clique. He really believed with Burns that "a man's a man for a' that" and with Thomas Jefferson that all men are created equal in their right to life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness. He had the courage to differ with those in power whether in public or private position, but never expressed his difference with bitterness.

All the Panhandle in general and West Texas State in particular has cause to acclaim his interest in the people he represented in Congress.

As an illustration, during the great depression and drought, when this area was literally biting the dust, Marvin Jones worked almost day and night to bring relief from the national government—the only source from which outside help could come. Had it not been for him and A. A. Meredith and Senator Tom Connally and Franklin D. Roosevelt and a few others there is no telling what the Panhandle of Texas would be like even today.

Oldtimers who managed to pull through the 1930's will tell you that hundreds if not thousands of homes were lost, some of them all but covered up with sand, hundreds of people fled the country, business failures were not uncommon, unemployment was at an all time high, and many people wondered where tomorrow's bread would come from.

Into this situation came The Works Progress Administration, The Public Works Administration, The National Youth Administration, The Civilian Conservation Corps, and other government agencies. These brought employment to every community in the Panhandle, and today visible results are all about us—Buffalo Lake, many improvements of Palo Duro Park, the first pavement on W. T.'s campus, a number of buildings on the campus, the enlargement of the Museum, a vast storehouse of historical, artistic, and scientific material and exhibits to and in the museum; and best of all a college education to hundreds of the Panhandle's choicest young people who are today serving nobly their country in various useful avenues of life.

For one, I shall ever hold in grateful appreciation the labor, the vision, and the courage of Marvin Jones—a statesman of the first order.

And as this article is being closed word comes that another great American, General MacArthur, is in the process of crossing the bar. If his great military career did not make his name imperishable in our country's history his address before congress some years ago will do so, for in my opinion, it ranks well toward the top of all patriotic and oratorical public utterances in American history.

God give us more Marvin Joneses and Douglas MacArthurs! Also, more private citizens who will imitate the example of these two patriots!

FROM THE CANYON RIM

Well, we made the trip to Lake O' The Pines but as usual, the fish weren't biting there last week. We didn't catch much.

The water was affected by the earthquake in Alaska. We understand there was a four-foot tidal wave on Caddo Lake.

Reports early this week said logs stuck to the bottom of Lake O' The Pines for years were jarred loose by the tremor which jolted the seismograph more than any other quake in history.

Anyway, the fish weren't biting. We caught four fish. One was a perch, two were bass and the other was the biggest sucker ever landed at Lake O' The Pines.

The sucker, weighing 170 pounds, struck a lure which was not even attached to a line but was landed with no difficulty at all.

This is how it happened. We had just tied the boat up and were about to get started fishing Saturday morning. Dr. W. J. Wooten was working on the boat motor and Bud Parker was casting.

We raised up to cast and lost our balance. Our tackle box—a great mistake—was open in the boat. We put out a hand to break the fall. Instead of catching the side of the boat as intended, we grappled in the tackle box. Up came the hand with two prongs of a treble hook imbedded and set.

We tried to pull it out but it wouldn't budge. We've got proof now that those TV cowboys are spoofing when they extract barbed arrows with seeming ease on video thrillers. We know now that anything sharp and barbed requires a cutting knife to dislodge it. This does leave us with a profound respect for the founding fathers who braved such missiles to establish this country.

Dr. Wooten used a screwdriver to remove the lure but there sat the treble, even tighter than before and looking much nastier.

Back to the dock we sped over about four miles of water. We called a Dr. Woods in Jefferson. He graciously consented to remain in his office during his lunch hour and carve. Within a few minutes after we got to the doctor's office we were off the hook. Minutes later we were back on the lake. Funny thing, neither the entry or the exit of the treble hurt in the least.

We suffered no swelling and the wound never even got sore.

When something like this happens, our advice is to get to the nearest doctor for attention. Do not perform amateur surgery. With the thousands of germs abounding on lakes, this could result in lockjaw and tragedy.

The best thing to do is to keep your life jacket on and your tackle box closed if you insist upon standing up in your boat.

Feeling on the public accommodations provisions of the Civil Rights Bill is higher in East Texas than it is in this sector.

Lyndon Johnson is not exactly a hero in that area. A lot of his chances for success in carrying his home state in November hinge on the Civil Rights Bill in its ultimate form.

Most people with whom we talked on a recent trip object to the public accommodations section on grounds that it is an infringement on the right to own and use property. This is the grounds upon which we object to it.

US News & World Reports says senatorial mail is running as high as 10 to 1 against the bill and could have a drastic effect upon the type of measure which finally is enacted.

In essence the Civil Rights Bill as it now stands will destroy civil rights, not protect them.

Arnold Toynbee, the historian, has said that of 21 notable civilizations, 19 perished not from external conquest but from the evaporation of belief within.

In short, they died for lack of purpose. What is our national purpose now?

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Brasher were in Canyon recently for a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Foster.

The Brashers and their daughter, Leslie Lynn, have recently moved to Fort Reucker, Oklahoma. He graduated from an officers training school in early March. The school was held at Fort Benning, Georgia.

Cub Scouting

PACK 131

Den 1...The "Cub Scout Naturalist" was introduced as the April theme for Cub Scouting at last Tuesday's meeting in the home of Mrs. Ed Burgdorf, den mother.

The 8 boys present planted sweet potatoes in water jars, and planted Texas bluebonnet and other flower seeds outdoors at the meeting. The meeting was opened with the pledge of allegiance and closed with the Cub Promise.

Wallace Stevens furnished refreshments for the afternoon.

Mrs. Burgdorf noted that the Cub meeting had been cancelled for this afternoon, Thursday, and a new den mother, Mrs. Ray Griffin, and Mrs. Max Brummett, assistant den mother, will take over the troop's leadership in mid-April.

Den 2...Sorry, no news on Mrs. Bob Ratliff's den.

Den 3...A Cub 'shack' is being built in the backyard of the Cecil Winn home by Cub Scouts of Den 3. Mrs. Winn, den mother, said that the small building was started at their regular meeting last week.

The boys are furnishing materials for the project, and will devote several sunny afternoon meetings to building the Cub 'shack'. Seven boys were present for their meeting last week and Grover Brillhart was in charge of refreshments.

A tour of 'Main Street USA' was made by six of the Cubs last week. The railroad car museum in Amarillo was toured on Saturday and 'the boys seemed to be interested in the locks more than some of the other items on display' said Mrs. Winn.

The 'Singing Beatles' who performed at the pack meeting recently for Pack 131 were all members of Den 3. The singers were Chuck Wright, Allen Dale Beghtel, Roy Joe Beghtel, and Jerry Don Risner. Female fans for the skit were Cub Scouts, Greg Winn, Grover Brillhart, and Jim Bob Brown. They were dressed in costumes and wigs to simulate the female gender.

"Four Crazy Beatles" was sung by the Cub 'beatles'. The song was also composed by members of the Den.

Den 4...No meeting for Cubs of Mrs. Raymond Raillard's den, guess they took time off to have a Happy Easter holiday.

best in. Also, I really liked the coaching staff," Poole said. Eddie visited the Baylor campus early this year and met with the coaches and football players while in Waco.

"Eddie made a fine impression on coaches and players alike. We think we have a really fine boy here," Purvis said while visiting in Canyon Tuesday.

Poole will major in physical education with plans to teach following graduation.

He may play freshman basketball at Baylor next year. Eddie was on the starting Canyon basketball team which won the Class AA state championship this year.

Poole was named to the Dream Team of the State of Texas by coaches throughout the state during his senior year. He also was picked as all-district end both defensive and offensive, and was on the Fort Worth Star Telegram All-State team.

He was named to the all-district team in basketball and was picked as most valuable player at the Tulia Tournament this year. Eddie also was chosen for the all-regional team at Lubbock and the all-state tournament team at Austin.

Eddie picked two football tussles as his best showing in his senior year.

"My best high school games were the ones this year against Tulia and Dimmitt. But I can almost remember every play in every game we played," Poole recalled.

Eddie began football as a member of the Kids, Inc. team the year before the seventh grade. He played football in junior high school and continued throughout high school. E. J. "Jeep" Webb coached Poole in football and Allen Simpson was Poole's basketball coach.

"The coaches and my teammates at Canyon have been wonderful," Poole said.

Burl Brimm, assistant professor of education at West Texas State University, shows some of the children's art work now on exhibit in the basement of the Education Building on campus. The work, some 40 pieces, was done by students of Sanborn Elementary School in Amarillo.

New Children's Art Exhibit Opens Today

The second in a series of children's art exhibits will open today (Thursday) in the basement of the Education Building on the West Texas State University campus.

The 40 objects, hung under the direction of assistant education professor Burl Brim, were done by children of Sanborn Elementary School in Amarillo. Subjects range from Easter bunnies to street scenes.

Brim says the student art is hung in order for elementary education majors to see at first hand the achievements of children of the ages which they will be teaching.

"A side benefit is the motivation the exhibits give the school children," says Brim. "When they know they have a chance of having their work exhibited, they work that much harder."

Brim said the art exhibited in this display is somewhat less sophisticated than that shown in an exhibit from Emerson Elementary School hung several weeks ago.

"However, I like this exhibit just as much because it is much brighter and more colorful," he said.

The gayness of the art, according to Brim, is somewhat surprising, since most of the children attending Sanborn School are from very low-income families.

Dr. and Mrs. Dale Maxwell of Denver, Colorado visited during the holidays with her sister and family, Rev. and Mrs. Newton Barnes.

"The principal told us of one youngster whose painting is in the exhibit who served as an elephant boy during the fair last fall. He needed the extra money, so he and another youngster were allowed to leave school early in the afternoon. One would wear part of a plastic elephant costume and the other would serve as the head portion so that it looked like he was part elephant and part boy.

Student Art Auction Open

Some 40 student paintings went on auction this week in the WT Student Union Building to help raise funds for university art scholarship funds.

Sponsor for the exhibit and auction is Beta Pi Chapter of Kappa Pi, national honorary art fraternity. The paintings, all by students, are being displayed in the Formal Lounge of the SUB.

Don Ray, university drawing instructor, said all proceeds from the sale will go to the Art Scholarship Fund. He said Beta Pi hopes to provide partial scholarships for an entering freshman art major and several other undergraduate art students each year.

Each of the objects is marked with an asked opening bid. Those wishing to bid on paintings should mark the number of the painting and their bid on a piece of paper and drop the paper in a box at the door to the lounge.

Irene Howell Has Surgery

Open heart surgery for Miss Irene Howell will occur on April 6 at the Baylor University Medical Center in Dallas.

The 11-year-old third grade student is the middle child of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Howell of Canyon. She has two sisters, Janie and Kathy.

"Irene will be in the hospital for about six weeks," said her mother. Irene's address will be the Children's Medical Center, 2306 Welborn Street, Dallas, Texas for those who would like to remember the youngster during her hospital stay.

Americanism Week Ends With Drama

"One Came to Gettysburg" a one-act play, will be presented on Friday, April 3, at 1:15 p.m. in the auditorium of Canyon High School as the concluding activity for the annual observance of Americanism Week at the school.

The special play is being directed by Mrs. Margaret Foster, speech instructor, and Gene Murray, choir director.

The feature character will be Murray as Abraham Lincoln, Nancy Davis, Wam Moore, Rose Ellen Parker, Reggie Reeves, and Danny O'Donald.

Americanism Week observance began at the high school on Tuesday morning with a flag raising ceremony by Boy Scouts of Posts 66 and 31. Scout Joe Kerbel was in charge of the ceremony and others participating were Tommy Higgins, George Cox, Larry Pitt, Stanley Prichard, Mike McBroom, James Cabe, Stephen Hines, Scott Holcomb, Ronnie Bacon, Paul Stevenson, Joe Johnson, Charles Starnes and Alex deSchweinitz.

High School band members, under the direction of Lee Boyd Montgomery, presented traditional music for the occasion. The flag raising ceremony will be conducted daily at the school during the observance of the special week.

"Our American Heritage" is the theme for the third annual observance being staged at the high school. Canyon High School students, administrators and faculty members are participating in the week-long observance which is being co-ordinated by James E. Miller, principal, and Hobart McDonald, counselor.

The National Honor Society at the school is sponsoring the special week and members of this society are giving talks to each class during the week's observance.

Those included on the speech list are Nancy Hicks, Sally Neester, Jody Sheets, Linda Hughes, Sharon Read, Jackie Stone, Gayle Rea, Kay Kuykendall, Nancy Davis, Karen Erwin, Mary Ann Wheelock, Grace Williams, Wam Moore, Pam Calder, Art Haley, Becky Dacus, Janie Burk, Janis Miller, Carol Brown, Jan Jennings, Doris Smith, Rosemary Innes, Ronnie Sweet, Gary Fletcher, Kenneth Brown, Steve Burgess, Joan Malone and Ann Fisher.

Each instructor has conveyed the Americanism Week theme through classroom participation in discussions, themes and reports.

Tuesday marked the beginning of the weeks observance with an all-school assembly by Mrs. Edward McKay of Amarillo. Mrs. McKay, an American Field Service representative, gave a program entitled "Our American Heritage" for the occasion. She substituted for Don Hughes, who was originally scheduled for the assembly program.

Illustrative "Americanism Blocks" have been presented as a program by the National Honor Society for all government and history students during the week.

Four representatives of the Future Homemakers of America have given a short program over KCAN radio to convey the theme and purpose for Americanism Week. Students participating have been Gayle Rea, Nancy Hicks, Lee Ann Kelly and Doris Smith.

Future Farmers of America presented special morning speeches over the PA system at the high school this week. They were Bill Richey, Claiborn Crain, Jimmy Newton and Troy Roach and their sponsor, Roger Myrick.

Highlight of the four-day observance will be Friday, April 3, when the Student-Faculty Congress will present each classroom with a United States flag. The journalism and art classes will distribute a special edition of the Eagle Banner to students on this occasion. Janie Burk was in charge of the cover design and Billy Cawthon did other artwork for the special edition.

"Color Day" will be observed at the school on Friday with all students attired in ensembles featuring red, white and blue colors for the occasion. Mrs. Carla Willingham is in charge of the day's activities.

U.S. Army Blueprint On Exhibit

"U. S. Army Blueprint for the Future" will be exhibited today, April 2, on the West Student Union parking lot at the WTSU campus from 10 a.m. until 7 p.m. according to a local R.O.T.C. spokesman.

The exhibit is being staged by a division of Cameron Station from Alexandria, Louisiana and will consist of a laser beam demonstration which emits a concentrated light beam strong enough to pierce metal and then ignite a flashbulb. The 2 ruby measure laser beam is comparative to a 600,000 beam which is required for a moon shot according to Maj. Russell D. Cook, military science instructor.

A mobile travel exhibit, the special unit will feature button panels for viewing movies, special exhibits of future missile firing craft, weapons systems, missile defense, miniature models of aircraft, and extra sensitive radar systems.

The special unit, which will appear next in Salt Lake City, Utah, was invited to the campus by Lt. Col. Henry Calder of the R.O.T.C. department at WTSU. The project is informative, and will serve as a stimuli for cadets in the R.O.T.C. unit here. It will be open to the public from 10 a.m. until 7 p.m. today, Thursday, only.

Lt. Col. Calder was host for a group of 30 high school R.O.T.C. cadets from Amarillo High School Wednesday. The students were on campus to tour the exhibit, the WTSU campus, and they were also entertained during the afternoon with a presentation by the R.O.T.C. counter insurgency team, and a demonstration by the Sam Houston Rifle Team at the university.

Volleyball Team Fails To Rally

Canyon volleyball team fell behind in the Plainview tournament this week to take a loss to Phillips 66, 10-9, 15-9.

Canyon will play again tonight (Thursday) at 8 o'clock in Plainview against Holley's Gin of Spade. If the team wins that bout they will play Friday at 7:30 p.m.

Dial "H" For Happy

V.I.P.

Jolene Lee, our V. I. P., was born in Kress, Texas, on July 21. "Jody" stands 5'6", and has black hair and brown eyes. Her red-and-white Oldsmobile station wagon is easy to spot, touring around Happy. She has lived in Happy fourteen years. She attended high school at Delimit, which was for her Senior year, except for her Junior year, which was at Happy; and she also attended West Texas State University. On June 11, 1950, she married Robert G. Lee, and they have two sons: Larry Don, who is eight years old; and Robert Edward (Bob), who is twelve. Her parents are Hallie and Pete Whitlow, of Happy.

Now for her favorites: anything turquoise in color makes her stop and look twice; and when it comes to food, make it Mexican! She adores the Dick Van Dyke Show on television and thinks Rock Hudson is the handsomest of all actors. She likes to read for a pastime, if she ever has the time. She dislikes to clean house and especially the refrigerator (which she was trying to do when I talked to her). Her Pet Peeve is having a good supper ready, one that isn't too good after it waits for someone to eat it, and to have hubby Robert an hour late to supper.

Professor Takes Long Route To WT

BY RANDY RUTHERFORD
From cracking eggs to teaching economics traces the career to date of a WTSU instructor.

Dr. Fish, 33, started teaching at WT in 1961. Originally from Albert Lee, Minn., she came to the Texas Panhandle via Minneapolis, Des Moines, San Francisco, Tokyo, Midland, Tex., and Norman, Okla. Her occupations along the way are numerous.

During her four years at the University of Minnesota and her travels thereafter she cracked eggs for a powdered egg manufacturer, washed floors, served as a waitress, worked with the criminally insane and later, in San Francisco, worked for the California Public Health Department taking dental surveys ("My group had 21 per cent fewer cavities"-type work, she says.)

In Tokyo, Mrs. Fish went to work for the U. S. Army Far East Research Medical Laboratory doing research for epidemic diseases.

It was also in Tokyo that she and Don Fish were married—by a vice consul in a ceremony staged in the American Embassy.

"Shortly before we were married, I moved out of the Y and found a small house. The only problem was that it didn't have any heat either, so I usually had to go the movies at night to keep warm," she relates.

After Don Fish was discharged from the Army, the couple returned to the states.

"It took us 17 days on a freighter to make it back. All we did was get sea sick and play bingo. I now hate bingo."

After they were settled in Midland, Mrs. Fish continued her education at Texas Tech in Lubbock, where she obtained her master's degree in economics.

She then taught a year at Odessa Junior College.

They lived for sometime in Norman, Okla., where she received her doctorate. Shortly after that, the couple moved to Amarillo, where she finished her dissertation before starting to teach at WT.

Despite the fact that she now has two children, aged 6 and 3, Mrs. Fish says the family has few problems caused by her work.

"We might have if my husband didn't cook, but he does. It's a hobby with him, and he's a much better cook than I am."

Recil Johnsons Back To Canyon
Mr. and Mrs. Recil Johnson and daughter, Brenda, have moved back to Canyon after a two year absence while they operated a resort attraction at Lake Texhoma.

The Johnsons formerly operated the concessionaire at Buffalo Lake Wildlife Refuge for a period of six years.

They have two daughters, Brenda age 12, and Carol, now Mrs. L. C. Watkins of Savannah, Georgia.

Even with a home, family and teaching, she still has time for extra projects.

"Last summer I spent six weeks at a Social Science Research Council seminar in Madison, Wis. I served as the economist for a group consisting mostly of sociologists and political science people," she says.

Mrs. Fish says she plans to continue teaching.

"I don't know of any reason now why I would quit, and I imagine we will be in this area for some time," she said.

For a former resident of Minnesota, she is pretty fond of this area.

"It isn't all green like what I was used to, but it has a beauty all its own," she says. "I like it, and I imagine we'll stay."

Art Show Presented Sunday
A one-woman art show featuring oil paintings of Mrs. Mary Lee Garrett of Clovis, New Mexico will be staged in the lounge of the Fine Arts Building at West Texas State University on Sunday afternoon, April 5.

The art show, which is open to the public, will be held from 2 until 5 p.m.

Approximately 35 paintings of New Mexico scenery, snow topped mountains and other interesting subjects will be featured in the art exhibit. Mrs. Garrett, a mother and grandmother, is a protege of Frederick Faubus, nationally known artist and teacher. Mr. Faubus also features articles in the American Artist, monthly magazine for artists.

Mrs. Garrett, who owns her own gallery in Clovis, has taught art in Cloudercroft, Santa Fe, Taos and numerous other sites in the Texas Panhandle and New Mexico. She has held a variety of one man shows throughout the area.

WEST SIDE OF THE SQUARE IN CANYON

After obtaining her BBA degree from the University of New Mexico, Dr. Fish went to work as a statistician for the state psychologist for Iowa in Des Moines. She worked with the mentally retarded, the criminally insane and the mentally ill.

"I think I learned more about people during my year and a half there than at any other time," she says now.

But Dr. Fish didn't stay in Iowa long.

"This friend of mine and I decided we wanted to see the world, and there really wasn't too much to see in Iowa, so we set off for California."

It was while working in California for the State Public Health Department that she helped conduct dental surveys while the department was keeping records on fluoridation programs.

It was also while in California that she met her future husband.

"I met him on a blind date. He was with the Army Engineers and had just got back from Alaska. He isn't very tall, and I was the only girl my friend knew short enough to go on the date," says Dr. Fish. "He wasn't there long before he was reassigned to Korea, so we made arrangements for me to meet him in Tokyo later on."

So after about two years in California, Dr. Fish was on her way again—this time to Tokyo.

"I arrived in Tokyo and moved into the YWCA and there is nothing else quite like the Tokyo YWCA. It has no heat."

He will be the special speaker at the morning assembly, in the Administration Building auditorium. He will address a group of history majors and members of the history staff Tuesday afternoon in an informal discussion on Southern history.

He taught as an instructor at Whitman College in 1923-24, tutor and instructor at Harvard in 1926-27, assistant professor at Clark University in 1929-30, and associate professor at Lafayette from 1933-1946. In 1946, he joined the faculty of the University of Kentucky.

He has taught summer sessions at City College of New York, the University of North Carolina, and Princeton. He has been visiting professor at the University of Wisconsin, Fulbright professor at the University of Manchester, England, in 1951-52, and Fulbright lecturer at the University of Innsbruck, Austria, in 1957 and 1958. He will be going to Italy this fall on his third Fulbright lectureship, and is also invited to be professor of American history and institutions at Cambridge University in 1968.

Among his honors and awards

DR. CLEMENT EATON

are a prize from Duke University in 1939, a Guggenheim Fellowship in 1945-46, a Social Sciences Research Council Award in 1953, and a Huntington Library research grant in 1955-56.

Mrs. Richmond Hales Active Housewife, Mother Of Three

By Lorena Miller

Mrs. Richmond Hales, better known as Mary Jo, is an active mother of three, who spends part of her spare time doing a variety of paintings, and likes to cook 'in bunches'.

This week Mrs. Hales shares her recipe for Date Cookies with our readers.

The former Miss Mary Jo Tomlinson graduated from West Texas High School, when Canyon had two high school facilities. The WT school was housed in the present education building at the university.

A daughter of the Floyd Tomlinsons, she was raised on a farm in the community along with her two sisters, Mrs. Bob Wilkinson of Canyon and Mrs. Ken Williams of Tucson, Arizona.

Following high school graduation, Mrs. Hales entered West Texas State University where she majored in government and minored in creative arts. Later, she attended the University of Colorado at Boulder, Colorado.

"I never could draw, or rather didn't think that I could," says Mrs. Hales. "But I have always enjoyed working with my hands. At the present I have been taking classes in oil painting and am on the alternate list for oil painting classes at the university," she said.

Numerous artistic items made by Mrs. Hales decorate the family home at 2406 8th Avenue. The driftwood paneled kitchen and dining area is accented with a variety "of old cans" that have been made into showpiece items.

"Tole painting helps me use up grease cans, juice cans, tobacco tins and a lot of other such items that would otherwise be just thrown away," commented Mrs. Hales. She has varied size cans decorated and painted to match for unusual canister sets, and for many other uses such as stampboxes, pencil holders. She is beginning work on 'gas can lamp' which will be completed with tole painting procedures and antiques with special painting tones.

Brown-toned Early American wall paper accents the driftwood panelling which covers the dining and kitchen walls midway. The panelling is also featured in the U-shaped cabinet section which adjoins a family snack bar "that we use all of the time" according to Mrs. Hales.

The family freezer is kept well-stocked through Mrs. Hales summer freezing spree when she puts up a lot of fresh garden vegetables. She also likes to bake desserts in mass and freeze the cakes and pies until needed.

Beef packages in the family freezer are from home-grown steers that are raised by Richmond on their farm which is located about 17 miles southwest of Happy. He primarily raises Angus cattle, but also farms acreage with wheat and maize and some cotton.

A graduate of Canyon High School, Mr. Hales is the son of H. B. Hales, who has operated a dairy farm mid-way between Canyon and Amarillo for a number of years.

He has three brothers, Lewis lives in Amarillo, and Joe V. and Jones, both live west of Canyon. His sisters are Mrs. Vern Garden and Jane Daniels of Amarillo and Mrs. Richard Cunningham of Omaha, Nebraska.

4-H has played a large role in the life of the Hales family. Richmond was active in 4-H work during his school years and two of the Hales children, Ricky and Rhonda, are currently active in 4-H clubs.

Ricky, 11, won four ribbons in the stock show earlier this year. In last year's stock show, he had the grand champion dairy heifer and the reserve champion Angus. This year's awards were for the heifer division, a first place; 2nd for a heavy weight steer; 3rd for a light weight steer; and a 4th place for a group of two.

A fifth grade student, Ricky is active in school work and likes all types of athletic events. He enjoys spending an afternoon or Saturday morning at the farm working with his show calves.

His sister, Rhonda, also spends a lot of her time at the farm with the animals. She is active in 4-H club work and showed the grand champion lamb in January's stock show. Her other lamb entry took a 3rd place ribbon at the event.

Rhonda is in the third grade class taught by Mrs. A. K. Goodman and participates in the Brownie Scouting program for girls. She celebrated her ninth birthday last week with a gathering of friends for the occasion.

Rhonda's birthday, March 27th, is one of a series of birthday's for the Hales family at this time of year. "My oldest son, Ricky, has a birthday on March 19th. He was born on my own birthday," commented Mrs. Hales.

Roddy, who will celebrate his eighth birthday on April 5, is in the first grade this year. He is interested in 4-H work and hopes to start in the club next fall. "Roddy has several of his own calves at the farm now," commented his mother.

Decorating the boy's bedroom walls are their 4-H ribbons and a series of still-life fruit paintings done by their mother. Oil paintings of mountain scenery, china painted plates, and lassie pictorial hangings decorate the bedroom of their daughter, Rhonda, and the master bedroom.

"I have also taken a course in reupholstery at the university," commented Mrs. Hales as she uncovered a Provincial style sofa that she renewed the woodwork on and covered in a gold and white florentine upholstery cloth.

"My mother is taking some painting courses, as a hobby, and seems to enjoy them during her spare hours," commented Mrs. Hales.

Rhonda and Roddy are both "showing signs of artistic ability in their drawings" according to their mother and Rhonda likes to watch and help as Mrs. Hales does a large part of her painting at home.

Accenting the livingroom of the Hales home are two large oil portraits of their children which Mrs. Hales did from photographs. She is planning to do another matching painting of their youngest son, Roddy, to complete the arrangement. The lifelike paintings are framed with a maroon matting and frailing water and add to creamed toned walls which are accented on one wall with a large mural, done in greens, browns and blacks, with a setting of workers threshing wheat depicted in the scene.

The Hales three-bedroom home is located at 2406 8th Avenue and has been the residence of the family for 13 years since their marriage in 1950.

They are active members of the Church of Christ of Canyon and Mrs. Hales finds time to participate in the Junior Woman's Book Club for which she served as chairman of the fall home tour during 1963. She is currently the publicity and historical chairman for the Parent-Teacher Association of Canyon and has formerly served with her husband as the hospitality chairman for the PTA.

From her collection of favorite family recipes, Mrs. Hales shares Date Cookies with our readers this week. "These date cookies are good to bake ahead and freeze if you like," she commented.

He is a sophomore student at Texas Tech, majoring in pre-veterinary medicine, and has applied for admission to the college of veterinary medicine at Texas A & M University for the fall semester of 1964.

All-School Social Saturday Night

An all-school social for Canyon High School students will be held Saturday night, April 4, in the commons room at the school.

The spring social will begin at 7:30 and conclude at 11:00 p.m. according to James E. Miller, school principal.

Brownie And Girl Scout News

As with all out of school holidays Easter wrought a havoc among weekly club meetings which were scheduled for Thursday evening and Friday.

A majority of Brownie and Girl Scout troops cancelled their meetings for the holidays. They will resume meetings this week.

Mrs. Bill Taylor's troop of second grade Brownies met last Tuesday afternoon to discuss a mother's day project which they will be making for their mothers.

Eleven girls were present for the meeting and Nicki McCarter was hostess. Beverly Smith, a member of the troop, was absent due to a tonsillectomy operation.

Wanda Graham assisted Mrs. Taylor with troop supervision during the meeting.

Doe Nan Musgrave was hostess for a meeting of Troop 14-B's third grade Brownies last Tuesday afternoon.

Fourteen girls were present for the meeting to work on junior scouting requirements.

They spent part of the afternoon making a field trip to the telephone company here where Jack Williams served as tour guide and explained how the facilities were operated.

Mrs. Troy Martin and Mrs. Ray Musgrave are troop sponsors.

Girl Scout's Own was studied by 18 Girl Scouts of Troop 9 at their meeting Wednesday of last week. The project program included play acted roles on strengthening Girl Scout laws, the promise and other scouting points.

Mrs. B. J. Ormsby is troop leader.

The Amarillo College of Hairdressing was a visit point for cadets of Troop 1 last Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Cora Crain, instructor at the college, spoke to the girls on skin conditioning, hair, fingernails and discussed other points of interest to the girls. Several were treated to shampoos and sets. Enroute home, they stopped at the Ranger Drive Inn for supper.

Mrs. Billy Hill, troop leader, and Mrs. Cecil Johnson accompanied the girls on the trip to Amarillo.

The early summer day camp and a patrol encampment for August were topics of discussion at last Wednesday's meeting for senior Girl Scouts of Troop 13.

Miss Linda Young, daughter of the Floyd Youngs, spent the Easter holidays in Canyon and community visiting with relatives.

The Youngs, former residents of Canyon, are currently in Nigeria. Miss Young is a student at Abilene Christian College.

A beautiful service early Sunday morning brought smiles of happiness from several of the people responsible for the success of the Easter Sunday sunrise service held in Palo Duro Canyon. Rev. Jack Boyett, left, gave the sermon to the more than 600 persons attending the services which began at 6 a.m. Wam Moore, second from left, is vice president of the Canyon Christian Youth Council which sponsored the services, and he presented the scripture reading. Miss Pam Calder is president of the Council, and Rob Barnard gave the call to worship.

650 Attend Early Morn Services

Chill morning air greeted approximately 650 city and area residents who filled the amphitheater in Palo Duro State Park early Sunday morning for the annual Easter Sunrise Services.

The Canyon Christian Youth Council, an organization of youth of the high school, sponsored the annual sunrise service which featured Rev. Jack Boyett, pastor of Calvary Baptist Church, as the main speaker.

Canyon's Boy Scouts were on hand directing traffic as the early risers entered the state park gates free of charge on Easter Sunday. Scores of travellers and area persons remained in the park throughout the day for family picnics and egg hunts for the children.

The early morning service was opened with a prelude by Miss Mary Ann Wheelock of Canyon and with a call to worship by Rob Barnard. Bud Lovell, minister of music for the First Baptist Church of Canyon, directed congregational Easter hymns during the program.

Miss Lil Cowart read an Easter poem during the service and Miss Nancy Davis presented the morning prayer. Wam Moore gave the scripture reading and special music for the service was presented by the Canyon High School choir, under the direction of Gene Murray.

Rev. Jack Boyett, main speaker for the occasion, also serves as advisor for the youth council. Officers of the CCYC are Pam Calder, president; Wam Moore, vice president; Becky Price, secretary-treasurer; Rob Barnard, publicity chairman.

one that you do like and help make it a good place to live. A person's mind is like his car. If it gets to knocking too much, he's better off to have it overhauled, or change it. The easiest thing in the world to find is somebody to criticize. And that makes you an easy target for the other fellow. The only advantage of GOUT is that it keeps people from kicking. Hard knocks never hurt you, unless you're doing the knocking. Anyone can criticize. The man with a future is the one who can match his criticism with a cure.

Changing your mind is sometimes better than changing your job. Some can't look ahead for looking back. The fact that you are down isn't as important as whether you are satisfied in being here. Enthusiasm is always at the head of any class. Don't let yesterday use up too much of your today. The easiest way to have your own way is to get out and make it. I want to assure you that I do not have an axe to grind nor am I trying to get the man of the year award. All I am interested in is that a job has been well done and that I have helped the commercial progress of this community and have helped chart a safe and sane course to greater development and greater progress in the future. We are not an organization to further the private interest of any one. The Chamber of Commerce seeks to promote the interest and welfare of the entire community; for it is recognized that one person or even a few persons cannot prosper unless the whole community shares in the circumstances. I will close with this thought:

Don't under-rate the other fellow, or you may discover that you have over-rated yourself.
